Yom Kippur

Yom Kippur was fittingly celebrated at the Jewish Temple Wednesday and the services, which were conducted by Rabbi Hinstock of Cincinnati were well attended.

Many stores were closed today on account of the holiday.

Buy New Home

The Wertz Realty Company has sold its new seven room house on Gallia street near Linden avenue to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burkhardt, who will occupy it at once. The consideration was $6,000.

Social Session

One candidate Melvina Hill was initiated at the regular meeting of Mooseheart Lodge, Woman's Auxiliary of the Moose Tuesday night. Two applications were favorably balloted upon and plans made for initiation next week. The entertainment committee has announced a social session and lunch for the next meeting.

Esquire Rank

The Esquire rank was conferred on one candidate, George Drennon at Tuesday night's session of Peerless Lodge K. of P. It was also announced that trustees would have something important to report next meeting night.

The Huntington Herald Dispatch this morning said:

Huntington High's husky football squad resumed practice Tuesday after a well-earned layoff given the squad Monday. Heberlein and Signares did not report to the Tuesday session due to illness, the former being only slightly incapacitated, but Signares may be out a few days longer. The big tackle was not in the best condition last Saturday in the Marietta game but stuck to his post throughout the battle. In event that Signares cannot be used in the coming Portsmouth tilt Copen will probably be shifted from guard to the tackle position where he is expected to perform creditably. Cochran and Leckie, both junior high products will be worked at the tackle posts this week and will be used part time at Portsmouth should the situation permit. Both boys are long and rangy and scrappers of the first order.

Ward, the big blonde center, is being rested this week so that he will be in good shape for the later games. When Ward was forced to the sidelines early in the Marietta fray Yates took up the job and performed so well to the satisfaction of the multitudes assembled, that the change did not seem to weaken the big Red out in the least. The return of Fizer to the fold after his suspension had been raised by Coach Wilson sends the Red and Blue stock up sky high, although the playing of Mead, who substituted for Fizer, was good to look upon. With his great defensive ability Mead will get the call to fill an open place in the backfield when the occasion demands.

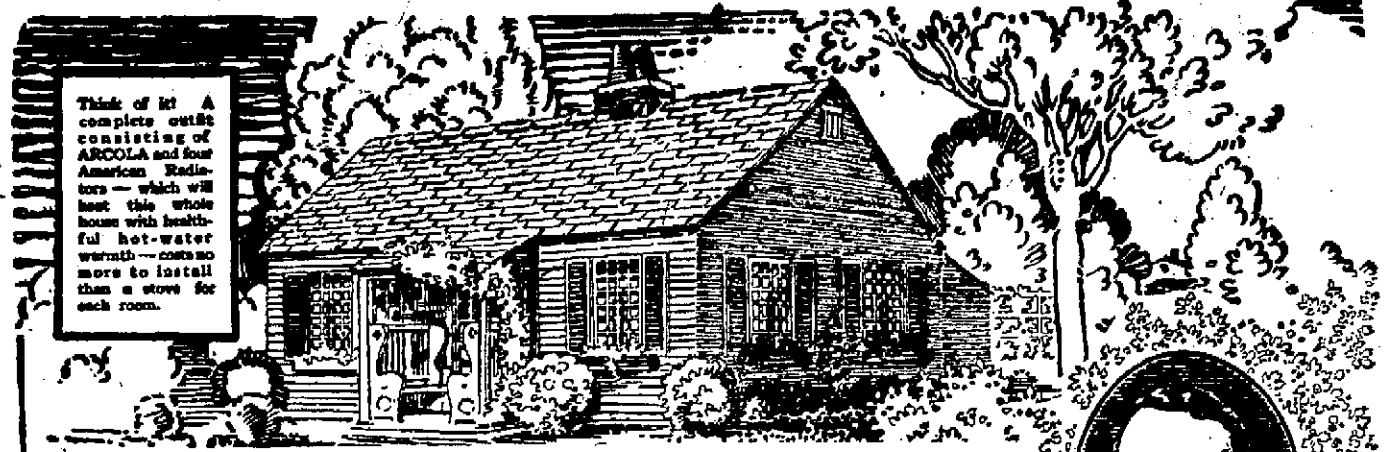

Little is known of the Portsmouth team which the locals meet next Saturday but to date they are an undefeated eleven which means that a real human battle is scheduled to take place in the Peerless City this coming week. Marietta also was an undefeated eleven but after the encounter with Coach Wilson's warriors their record was demolished. Thus far Huntington High has not tasted the bitter dregs of defeat even not having her goal line crossed and will fight to the last ditch in an effort to prevent an occurrence of this sort. The great defensive power of the big Red stalwarts is demonstrated by the fact that in the three games played this season the opponents have rarely been able to push the ball into Huntington territory.

Two Applications

Two applications were received and favorably acted upon at Tuesday night's meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose.

ARCOLA will add three times its cost to the value of your house

REMEMBER this about ARCOLA—it really costs you nothing.

If you stay in your present house three years, ARCOLA will pay for itself in the coal—it will save. Your Heating Contractor knows this; let him tell you the experiences of some of the thousands of ARCOLA owners.

If you plan to sell next Spring, ARCOLA will add much more than its cost to the selling-value of the house—just as IDEAL Boilers and larger AMERICAN Radiator systems add far more than their cost to the value of large buildings.

And think of the comfort this winter of having every room warmed with ARCOLA'S healthful heat—the same kind which one of our larger heating plants gives the White House itself.

Think of the joy of being free from dirty, stuffy stoves and hot-air furnaces forever. And the satisfaction of having plenty of hot water for washing and bathing besides!

ARCOLA is unlike any heating outfit you ever saw—a wonderful new invention—as handsome as a fine phonograph and costing hardly any more. Don't try to imagine what it is like; go to your Heating Contractor and let him show you today.

The red and yellow card at the left is the sign of a Heating or Sanitary Engineer (formerly called Steamfitter or Plumber) who can show you ARCOLA. Look for it in his window.

It will pay you to consult him twice a year as you do your Doctor or Dentist. To have him examine and report on your heating and plumbing costs little. It may save you a very great deal.

Sunday School Institute Opens October 20

The Annual Convention Institute of the County Sunday School Association will be held at the First Christian church, this city, Thursday and Friday, October 20th and 21st.

The theme of this convention will be Religious Education in the Home, the church and the community. An effort was made to visit all the Sunday school in the county last Sunday. Seven or eight automobiles loaded with visitors were sent out from this city covering all the southern part of the county. The northern part of the county was covered by visitors from local territory. They went with a message about the convention and urging the Sunday schools to send delegates. The visitors brought back reports from the schools, stating the delegates they would send. There is every indication of a good convention with a satisfactory attendance. Next Sunday morning it is the plan to have a visitor in every Sunday school in this city and New Boston.

The local County Association is under the direction of the State Association that has as president Dr. W. G. Clippinger of Westerville; several vice-presidents one of which is W. B. Anderson of this city; Treasurer Mr. John P. Alkin of Bellefontaine; Recording Secretary, Mr. Wilson A. Holmes of Granville and General Secretary, Mr. Arthur T. Arnold of Columbus. Mr. E. E. Barnhart of this city is District Manager of Scioto, Lawrence, Pike and Adams counties and devotes his whole time to the Association.

"The Sunday school is one of the greatest institutions of today. As a school of religious instruction it is indispensable. As a civil institution it is priceless."

Mr. Blankemeyer Heads Athletic Association

The First Evangelical Athletic Association has been formed with Will Blankemeyer president and Arthur Linck, secretary, for the purpose of promoting better athletics in the Sunday school gym. At a meeting held at the Sunday school last evening talks were made by Rev. Samuel Linden-berger, Fred Lorey, William Hazellock and Henry Hengge. There will be instructors for the various sports. An effort is being made to have more men of the school take part in the gym work. The gym will be open every Tuesday night to men and boys over 14.

ed the physical side and so neglected the intellectual side that they had only a puppe above their shoulders and could pull off their shirts without unfastening their collar buttons. We must develop the physical side if we want to be our best. Learn how to eat, to breathe, to hold and the rest of it. But that is not all, for if it were there would be more manhood in the mind of a mule than in some fellows I know.

Then there is the development of the intellectual side of our nature. How sad it is to see so many of the boys and girls when they get through the eighth grade become restless, want a job, "think they know enough" as they say. Look at the large Freshman classes that start in high school, and then see what a small percentage ever graduate. I asked someone back what was the reason for it. "Oh, becoming bored," he said. "Some of the ordinary day laborers, some get married." How smart so many become about that time, knowing more than the principal, or teachers, or parents. Why this is only the very beginning. At the end of four years in high school you come out an undergraduate and over the platform you find that the world's "Commencement" is only a "Commencement" off then to the "seniority" or to take a four year course in medicine or law, and then again, some one puts over them the word "Commencement."

We never do complete our education. Animals graduate much earlier than men. The little bird will gather its own worms in a few weeks, the little pig will root for itself in three months. What could you do in that time? You didn't even know your own identity at that time. The four year old horse will do the work that a horse ten years old can do.

Then there is the social nature to be developed. Play the fellow who thinks that to be mainly he must be a "tough neck." Or the girl who becomes a "snob."

Fear For Industry's Necessity.
Dynamite powder, the chief ingredient in all cutting wheels in cut-glass factories, is found only in Russia and Virginia. The Russian beds, however, are being rapidly depleted. The wheels are made at Niagara Falls. They last only a few weeks.

Miss Minnie Egbert, solicitor for The Times has found no trace of her wheel which was stolen from in front of the Gilbert Grocery company's place of business. It was painted black and she will give a reward of $10 to any person, who saw or knows anything about the gang of boys, who stole the wheel. Miss Egbert can be found at the Times office.

Will Address Local Credit Men

Tonight at 5:15 o'clock the Portsmouth Association of Credit Men will hold their first formal meeting of the fall and winter season at the Elk's parlors. Supper to be served at this hour.

The speaker following the supper will be John E. Norvell of the Norvell-Chambers Shoe Company of Huntington. He is vice president of the National Association of Credit Men and is to be the new president of the organization. He will have a splendid message for the local members of the Credit Association.

Community School Meets Every Tuesday

Much interest was manifested Tuesday evening at the Community School of Religion, Education, where students of all denominations assemble with a common purpose, that of preparing themselves for better service in Sabbath school work.

Classes are now being organized in the "Study of Old Testament History" and "Methods of Teaching Religion." The "intermediate" work will take in ways and means of bringing the "Youth of the Sabbath School into the Church."

The "Story Telling" class, which last semester dealt largely with theory will now take a most fascinating course in actual story telling by putting the theory into practice. Sabbath school teachers and any one interested in Bible teaching are urged to enroll, and take advantage of this annual opportunity.

To Install Legion Auxiliary Next Monday

Plans have been completed for the installation of the Women's Auxiliary to James Dickey Post, American Legion, the installation services to take place next Monday evening when Edith Hobart Irwin of Robert Bontley Post, Cincinnati will be here to direct the work. Officers will be elected at this meeting and the new Auxiliary officially installed.

All mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of former service men in the world war are eligible to membership and are urged to join this week before the new organization is installed.

May Be Something In Them.

Scholastic Flippancy.

"And now," continued the professor of history, "permit me to mention a tireless worker in the great cause of humanity—" "Attireless worker?" interrupted one of the seniors, "pardon me, professor, but if you are referring to Lady Godiva, she was attired in her luxuriant hair."

Monster Parade Of Knights

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12.—A monster parade in which eleven thousand armed and uniformed Knights Templars, headed by a band of twelve hundred pieces, planned to participate was on this afternoon's program of the seventy-ninth annual convocation of Knights Templars of Ohio. Commanders from Toronto, Detroit and Erie were given prominent places in the procession.

The first business session was held this morning. Mayor W. S. Fitzgerald, himself a Knight Templar, presided in the uniform of the order, delivered the opening address. Daniel E. Jones of Toledo, deputy grand commander responded. Rev. George W. Hamilton of Dayton, grand preacher, delivered the invocation.

The session was devoted exclusively to the business of the grand convocation. The final session will be held tomorrow morning.

Visiting women were taken on an auto tour this morning. During the afternoon they were to view the parade, which is to be the feature of the convocation.

MYSTERIOUS DAYTON MURDER UNSOLVED

DAYTON, O., October 12.—Dayton police woke this morning to find themselves still in the dark on the mysterious murder of Lucien Soward, attorney, who was stabbed to death Monday in his office in a large downtown office building, one half square from police headquarters.

With the "bloody man" who was seen to board a car south on the afternoon of the crime found and catalogued as innocent, detectives today sought in vain for additional clues.

They admit that search of Soward's papers, which were thought to hold the secret of legal transactions for clients of shady character, has failed to produce the desired evidence.

A more careful check of tenants in the building in which the murder occurred has failed to reveal any one who saw the slayer escape.

That has revived the belief that the assailant of Soward may have been a fellow-tenant in the building.

How Your Savings Are Safeguarded Here

The Ohio law requires that 5 per cent of the earnings of "building and loan associations" be set aside into this Reserve Fund, amounting to 5 per cent of the outstanding loans.

This provision is a safeguard against possible loss from real estate loans.

Notwithstanding the fact that a real estate first mortgage on property which must be "kept up" and insured, is about the safest security possible to conceive.

Add to this the margin of safety provided by the state statute Reserve Fund, and you have security made doubly sure.

"Dangerous Curve Ahead," Rupert Hughes' great picture of married life, contains some of the finest humor that ever registered before a camera. You will rock with laughter—and then suddenly find yourself thrilled by an intensely dramatic situation.

Court Puts Ban On Loafing

That the practice of men loafing on street corners and making remarks about women as they pass by, must stop, was the purpose—of a warning issued by Judge Sprague.

Home Treatment For Piles

If you suffer from bleeding, itching, blind or protruding piles, you can easily treat yourself at home with Mrs. Sumner's Pile Suppositories, and avoid needless expense and suffering. Safe, healing, soothing. Users report speedy relief and recovery. Ask your druggist, or send today for FREE TRIAL, with useful information, by addressing The Sumner Medical Company, Box P, South Bend, Ind.

The court issued the edict in the presence of the big crowd that filled the Municipal court-room Tuesday afternoon, at the close of the preliminary hearing of the Pearl Postwick case. In this connection Judge Sprague said that many women had justly made complaint of such misconduct by men on the street, which had resulted in a plan of action by the officers in a determined effort to break up the practice.

"Regular fellows and good 'scouts would not be ungentlemanly enough to do such a thing, and hope that those that have been guilty of such conduct in the past will desist and show a higher respect for the fairer sex in the future," the court said, and in conclusion intimated that those that failed to heed the warning need not expect much sympathy if brought into his court on such a charge.

Union Evangelistic Services Well Attended

An atmosphere of worship pervaded the union evangelistic services at the First Presbyterian church last night, an atmosphere that dispelled the fumes of any who might have been under the impression that there would be more or less froth and foam as often characterizes efforts like this.

From the singing of the very first song, "Love Lifted Me," to Mrs. O. J. Deitzler's splendidly rendered solo, "That's Why I Love Him So," every number seemed to stir the deeper emotions, and those present will come expecting things night after night.

The message of the evening was brought by Rev. D. C. Boyd, his subject being "Who Cares?" based on the story of the feeding of the five thousand. He said in part:

"A great throng of pilgrims to the Passover, on their way up to Jerusalem, turned aside to see this strange thing that was come to pass, and heard a marvelous sermon by the sea of Galilee. Moses turned aside to see a burning bush; but lo, 'a greater than Moses was here.' He healed their sick, and healed their sick hearts, till a real revival was in progress by the blue waters of Galilee. After three days with Him, the food they had brought was gone, and the disciples came saying 'They're hungry, Master—send them away! Didn't He know they were hungry?'

He had been feeding them for three days! He turns—'Give ye them to eat.' Yet his disciples are helpless; and so He fed the bodies of the congregation as well as their souls."

When it comes to matter of starvation today, we take pretty good care of it all. America has responded to the world's cry for food, and fifty million—America, Central Europe, Russia, China. We are keeping the world alive. And with this help, the unexpected has happened; men have everywhere been strangely stirred by our generosity.

The speaker told of the San Francisco earthquake, and how when loss of family, property, everything failed to reach the courage of many of the unfortunates get the administering of food opened the fountains of their tears.

"They learned," he continued, "the wonderful lesson, that folks cared. This is what the disciples lacked—and not caring for the physical needs of the multitude, how could they care for their spiritual needs? His real question was 'Who Cares?' It was a matter of Love, after all. We are afraid of that word; we have a certain modesty about it; it sounds too intimate, too sentimental; it is not virile. The preacher can preach on anything else, and folks will approve; he can preach on sin—the thing that drugs men down—and describe it in all its ugly detail; he can preach on Hell, and make the flames leap and the pit yawn; he can preach on the Judgment, and make men feel they will get what is coming to them; and lo, it is all right. But should he preach the Love that conquers that which is evil, it is—let it alone; nobody cares!"

Meanwhile, "the world is dying for just a little bit of love." We dare not live as He did—children run to Him, sinners sought Him, the sick found the touch of His hand bringing health; the dead heard His voice and rose up at Him. It was the first time on earth that Religion had discovered the heart of man. The disciples didn't love those folks—have we done what they did not?"

"How many loves have ye?" He said. What have we to give, we ask ourselves? "Not very much—a few loves," they replied; and that is all we can say—not very much. How can we give to men's souls when we merely feed on the bread of life—when we are hardly sure yet—that we are really saved?"

"It is not what we give but what we share. For the gift without the giver is bare."

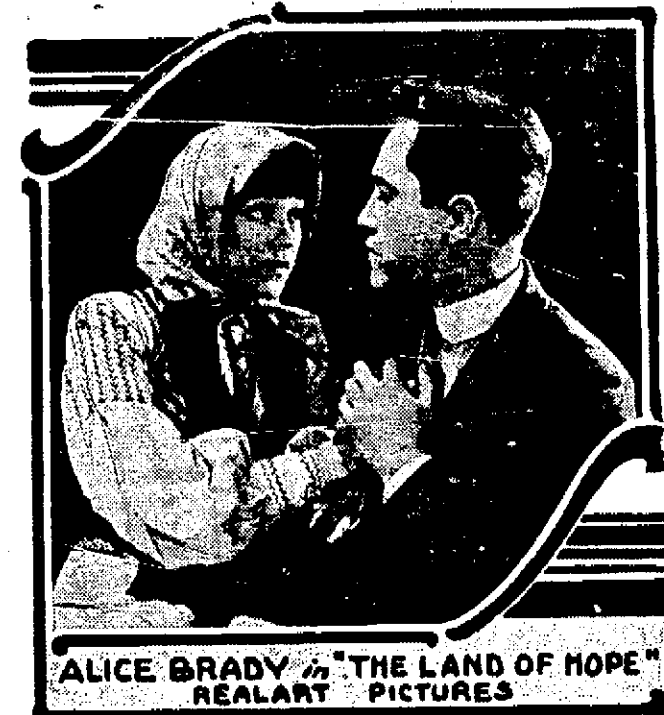

"Give them to eat." He said—meaning "Give it away—if you care for them." How much do we care? A man overheard a friend praying for his conversion, and cried "If I'd known you cared so much, I'd have given my heart long ago." How much does it mean to us?"

"Give what you have! What if it is but little—He said to give it; and give it we MUST—if we care. Not of money—but of ourselves; our sympathy, our interest, our efforts, our love, for those whom He wants fed."

And as we give ourselves into the service of others, the one who blessed the loaves may also place His hand on our heads in blessing, and we will find the multitude are fed—then us, but by Him—and because we care."

Bowman Is Found Guilty Of Larceny

"Not guilty" of breaking into an inhabited dwelling, but "guilty" of larceny as charged in the indictment and fixing the value of the property stolen at $75, was the verdict of the jury in the case of Floyd Bowman, 24 years old, brought before Judge Stephenson in Common Pleas court Tuesday. By reason of having served a term in the Reformatory for highway robbery, Bowman was sentenced to the penitentiary.

The crime for which he was convicted was the theft of clothing belonging to a woman named Stella Bess of North Chillicothe street, on the night of August 4. The stolen articles were found at the home of a relative where the defendant stayed, and this was a strong circumstance against him. The accused was defended by Attorney E. G. Miller.

Couple Air Troubles

Other Carpenter, 12 Waller street, was before Judge Sprague in Municipal court Tuesday to answer to a charge of beating his wife. Beatrice Carpenter, the court heard their tales of woe and then passed the case for the present after advising the couple to seek relief in the Common Pleas court. Each accused the other of causing all their troubles and their stories indicated that the matrimonial journey of the pair covering a period of five years has been a most rocky one. Carpenter was warned that he must not beat his wife again.

Taken To Huntington

C. C. Bricker and Frieda Bricker were the names given by a couple taken into custody Tuesday at Pullerton and brought to this city, where they were detained for the Huntington, W. Va., authorities. The pair, who claimed to be man and wife, were wanted in Huntington for the alleged theft of an automobile and they were returned to that city last night by Officer Price of the Huntington police force.

Loyal Daughters Plan Social

Tomorrow, Thursday evening, at 7:30, at the First Christian church, the Loyal Daughters class of the big Bible school at that place will give one of their regular social events. This time it will take the form of a box social, the kind grandpa and grandma attended "before de war." Many of the class, while very enthusiastic about it, seemed never to have attended one and of course wanted to like this about it. "It was explained like this: There are two classes and women who are members of the class and that is a box with a small lunch in it for two, and besides the lunch put a small piece of some material in the box that will be used as a decoration for the hair during the social. The second thing for them to bring is their husbands or sweethearts or boy friends or brothers or fathers, for while one may be young to get much fun out of an old fashioned box social, they never get too old. The only thing that the men need to bring is their pocketbook to will the be the greatest fun you ever had. For when the boxes are purchased the fun of searching about for the girl who prepared it and finding her by unteaching whenever kind of ribbon, cloth or other thing that might be used for a hair decoration, in the box with that work in the hair will be the greatest fun and contests that have been prepared.

It is a safer gamble than the world's series to bet that the Loyal Daughters will make you have a good time no matter how much you try not to.

The participation in this social event is not limited to members of the class nor to members of the church for that matter, but should there be any others members of other classes, friends of the church and school or those who just want to have a great big time and wind up by eating a lunch with some one whom you are not expecting to will the be the greatest fun you ever had. MAY LOCATE A REFORESTATION STATION ON WEST SIDE; MEETING AT HOTEL TONIGHT

A special committee of state officials, including L. J. Taber, secretary of the Department of Agriculture; C. G. Williams, director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, O.; Edmund Secrest, chief of the department of forestry; J. F. Cunningham, Carl E. Stebb, Oscar A. Bradute, members of the board of trustees and officials of Ohio State University will arrive here this evening from Columbus to prepare for an inspection of West Side lands tomorrow relative to the establishing of a reforestation station. The committee comes at this time to inspect the vast acreage under consideration.

Another committee including Governor Harry L. Davis, State Director of Finance John Walte and State Game Warden John W. Baxter, are expected here sometime next week to look over the proposed site for the reforestation station. The fact that the state officials are coming here to personally inspect the ground indicates that Scioto county has a good chance to land one of the big state projects much sought after in other parts of the state.

The Platte estate of about 25,000 acres near the western boundary of Scioto county is the main objective of the inspection parties as this tract has been inspected previously by state officials. The lands under consideration are most in the upper and lower twin creek section and include land owned by Frank Hamilton, Peckles Land Company, Simon Labrad, Ed Cunningham and others.

A recreation committee including Deputy Game Warden Frank Voorhees and Alan N. Jordan of the Chamber of Commerce will meet the visiting delegation tonight. All persons interested in reforestation stations are invited and urged to come to the Washington hotel after the dinner hour this evening to meet with the committee. These men will be glad to meet anyone interested.

Thursday morning the visitors and local men interested will visit the land making the trip to Buena Vista by auto and over the land by horseback.

Humorist Delights Appreciative Audience

Humor that was irresistible, humor that would have made the worst grouch in the world laugh—that was the kind of community medicine handed out in big doses last night by Douglas Malloch when he addressed close to 200 Chamber of Commerce men and women at All Saints parish house where the first forum meeting of the fall and winter season was held.

Everyone who heard Mr. Malloch last night was sorry that he had not brought more of his friends to hear him for his work as a public speaker is of the kind that one cannot help but appreciate to the fullest. He held the big audience for more than an hour with his many witty sayings and poems.

For his subject last evening the speaker took "The Seven Sinners of Business" as the theme under the following heads: the Liar, the Gossip, the Peddler, the Grouch, the Quitter, the Loafer, and the Flend for Work. He took each one of these and with many rare phrases of philosophy presented the "sins" to the audience in such a way that all could understand how they played an active part in business as well as every community. Mr. Malloch embellished his address with bits of experience from his own life and from the lives of his friends, each little story having its mission, that of driving home a truth meant to correct some evil or wrong that is to be found in business and community life. He discussed the love of man for man and laid stress on fellowship and friendship adding that the bonds of friendship are the ones that pay the biggest premiums always. Mr. Malloch said that the men not present at such meetings as held last night were the kind who were very seldom found on the stage of fellowship.

The Seven Sinners
In discussing the Seven Sinners of Business he started first with the Liar. The speaker said that the greatest liar is the father. Under the head of Gossip he said the Gossip is first brother to the Liar and explained that the first is only a manufacturer while the Gossip enlarges the product manufactured. Here the speaker gave a number of his many witty definitions including:

"We believe a liar, only when he says good things about us, or bad things about our enemies."
"You have ears on both sides—hear both sides of every story."
"Some people put two and two together and get twenty-two instead of four."
"Don't be the link of an endless chain to a runner."
"Don't believe all you hear and tell all you believe."

"A man gossip is worse than a woman gossip" which remark was followed by loud applause from the fair sex present.

A brother to the Gossip is the Grouch. In defining the Grouch he said:

"The man who goes around with a grouch is in mighty poor company."

"The worst grouch is the one who takes his troubles to the store and workshop."

"Don't talk of your family troubles, the neighbors will do that."

"There is one difference between some men I know and Opportunity—Opportunity knocks but once."

"We should forgive in this world, for we'll need lots of forgiveness ourselves in the next."

"Don't forget a word of praise. The only time some say, 'Well done,' is when they order a steak."

"A man doesn't need to talk about his family affairs—the neighbors will take care of that."

The Peddler
Next in line came the Peddler, brother to the Grouch. In witty explanations Mr. Malloch said:

"A peddler is a man who never sees the sun, one who goes through life with his hand on his eye."

"No pessimist ever led a charge."

"An optimist is a man who sees a light in a dark room where there isn't any light, and a pessimist is a man who comes along and blows out the light."

"A pessimist likes winter—in summer, and summer, too—in the winter."

"An optimist asks if the Kankows were while a pessimist asks if the Kankows lost."

"An optimist is a man who calls at the photographer's for his proofs on the day that the photographer said they'd be ready."

"An optimist is a man who buys a bottle of hair restorer—and a comb from a bald-headed barber."

"There are optimists at the insane asylum, but they are there guarding pessimists."

"An optimist is one who goes through life cheering up the pessimist."

"There are such things as being too much of an optimist. These are the fellows who sit by and say it will come out all right," said the speaker.

"Let us look at the right, bright, heart side of things."

Then the speaker spent some few minutes on the Quitter. Some of his definitions were:

"God Almighty hates a quitter, but he spits a better."

"The boy who wins is the boy who sticks to the job he has not stuck to."

"Don't start anything you can't finish, but when you do start something finish it."

"When you want something, don't wait for it to come too quickly, be as patient as Job."

"Too many sit back and take life as it comes, when it is really going."

"There are not many young men cannot stand to work."

"The sixth brother is the Liar, and there are entirely too many of these people in the world," said the speaker who defined them as follows:

"There are many experts who are in the Loafer class. An expert is one that can't do a thing himself, but will tell others how to do it for a consideration."

"A loafer may fool the boss but the worst fooler man is himself."

"I never saw a promoter who was promoting the general welfare."

Last but not least the Work Flend said the speaker who followed his remarks with the following:

"If idleness is foolish, overwork does not pay."

"It may be foolish to try to get somebody else to do something, but it is twice as foolish to do everything yourself."

"The man who has views and is always airing them is usually the man who has views that need airing."

"A work flend is the one who forgets there are others and tries to do everything himself and then overworks."

In closing the speaker urged fellowship and co-operation as the two great assets in accomplishing problems of the day. He laid stress on the value and importance of such community gatherings as last evening.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Valdez Harold. The music by Prof. Davidson's Winter Garden Orchestra made a big hit before and during the supper hour. The supper was served by the women of All Saints church. Group singing was led by Foster Krake. Secretary William Harris announced that forum meetings will be held once a month this fall and winter instead of once a week.

SHEPPARD FLASHES GUN IN A LOCAL RESTAURANT; FINED; SENT TO JAIL

John Sheppard, 45 years old, was fined $200 and costs and sent to jail for 30 days on a gun totting charge and was held for grand jury action on a charge of assault with intent to kill by Judge Sprague in Municipal court Wednesday afternoon.

The charges against Sheppard grew out of an altercation which occurred at the Joe King restaurant, 317 Market street, shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The evidence disclosed that the trouble resulted from a dispute over the definition of the word "plethora" Sheppard taking issue with Dr. J. D. Hendrickson, county recorder, who was asked to give the meaning of the word when he entered the restaurant to get a jar of buttermilk.

Dr. Hendrickson told the court that immediately after answering the inquiry concerning the word Sheppard used the short and ugly word and at the same time drew a pistol from his pocket and struck him with the gun on the point of his chin, inflicting a slight cut.

Earl Dunham, Russell Brower and Herschel Zornes, who were in the place at the time and witnessed the outbreak, substantiated the statements of Dr. Hendrickson in every detail.

Dunham said he flew out the door when he heard the pistol in the hands of Sheppard snap twice, but the accused denied his statement on that point. Sheppard asserted that at the time he drew the weapon Hendrickson looked angry and was advancing toward him, but declared he had no intention of killing him. He further denied that he was taking the gun about to "get" Bill Brooks, who recently beat him up in a fight. Sheppard is a former Fullerton man and has been living at the Portsmouth Hotel for the past 18 months.

considerable of the stock of tobacco, candy, history and other articles. The work of the invaders was discovered Wednesday morning when the proprietor opened the store for the

Perfecting Plans For County Institutes

Farmers' Institutes at Havrehill, Empire Grange, South Webster and Otway had representatives present this morning at a conference held at the office of County Farm Agent Walter Gahm.

It opened at ten o'clock and closed at 12 o'clock. D. W. Galehouse, assistant supervisor of Farmers' Institutes of Columbus was present to discuss with the representatives plans for the annual institutes to be held in November and December.

Heretofore set subjects were assigned the speakers the same addresses being given in almost every session. This year a different plan is to be followed. At such conferences as held today the state men are given some idea of what the needs are in each community served by an institute and at the institute this year subjects vital to that community will be taken up and discussed. In this way it is hoped to make the institute more effective and constructive.

Mr. Galehouse had stress on the preliminary work being well organized. He also urged the institute officers to see that the state speakers spend only a given time on a subject so they would have time to discuss the subjects. He also urged the appointment of local and semi-local speakers to discuss the various subjects. Mr. Galehouse also said it was important that the president and executive committee appoint special committees to look after special work. Mr. Galehouse goes from here to Zenton to hold a conference. He is taking the place of F. L. Allen, supervisor of institutes, who was scheduled to be here today.

Present at today's conference were S. V. Selby, vice president of Havrehill Institute; E. B. Jaag, secretary; Fred Montz, president, and Dan Oakes of the Executive Committee, Empire Institute; John Gahm, secretary, N. T. Potts and Billy Burton of the Executive Committee, South Webster Institute; and A. H. Jones of Otway Institute.

COLUMBUS DAY IS OBSERVED AT HOLY REDEEMER CATHOLIC CHURCH

Columbus day was impressively observed at Holy Redeemer church by the celebration of High Mass by the pastor, Rev. J. E. McDuff, the school children singing the chant. Through-out the United States the great organization of the Knights of Columbus celebrated the anniversary by attending masses and appropriate special ceremonies in honor of Columbus day, a national holiday. There is a natural bond of union between October 12th Columbus day and the Fourth of July 1776.

Each is necessary to the other. The glorious achievement of 1776 is the natural effect of 1492. Columbus is the real pioneer and founder of the American republic. The pastor in his remarks to the school children impressed upon them the importance of Columbus day and the discovery of America and the great achievement of the American people.

Home Runs So Common Players Take 'Em Calmly Fans Make Hubbub, Though

NEW YORK, October 12.—Yesterday's game was exciting, the first four innings so crisp and full of thrills that what followed seemed drab, though the closing rounds produced as much interest as the average contest.

Nobody may remember those last innings a year hence, but even the most casual fan could not expect to stop talking about the three home runs in less than ten minutes, the three seasons when fielders stopped terrible drives they could not catch by hurling themselves in front of the flying sphere, the long run of Chick Fewster to also hit Young's foul ball by the bleachers in the first inning, the undaunted spirit that carried the Giants to victory after the Yanks had twice gone ahead of them, and the manner in which Barnes, curled the Yanks when their bats were merely swinging with the joy that Tony furnished.

No Demonstration By Players
There was a big hubbub by the roots over the three home runs in the second inning. But the players were surprisingly calm in their reaction to these wallops, just as if bawling the ball into the outlying sections of the park was nothing to make a fuss over. When E. Meusel propelled one into the lower right field stand with Kelly on base, not a person grasped his palm as he crossed the plate and walked to the dugout. Rawlings, going up to the front with his heavy artillery, passed the returning hero in silence, without so much as offering a salute of recognition. Even the bat boy's nod of approval seemed perfunctory. It used to be that play could not go on until the home run maker had been congratulated by all his team mates, but that simply isn't being done these days. The home run that Snyder poked a moment later the players appeared to accept without particular enthusiasm, and this also was the case immediately afterward when Fewster put the Yanks ahead once more by hoisting one into the bleachers with Shawkey on base. Styles change. Perhaps major league players say, "Tshaw, what's a home run? We know a fellow who hits one every two or three days."

That fellow—Babe Ruth—sat in the grand stand yesterday. Maybe it was just as well. It's sub. Fewster, hit a home run, which Babe probably could not have done with his sore arm, and the sub got several long flies far from his position that Babe might not have reached because of his sore leg.

Giants Have Advantage In Box
Metropolitan fandom believes the champions up at the Polo grounds will go the full nine games. Regard, they say, how the teams over the span of a whole week, showed themselves imbued with a fit for fat spirit. The Yanks took the first two, then the Giants won a pair, after which the Yanks forced one ahead, only to have the Giants catch up with them yesterday by punning the service of Harper and Shawkey for 13 hits and 8 runs.

The advantage of power in the box goes with the Giants. Douglas and Barnes have shown they can halt the rush of Yankee bats. Douglas was basped to pitch today and Nelt tomorrow. Nelt lost two games to the Yanks, largely because his team mates made but one run in 18 innings they labored with him. This would leave for the possible ninth game assignment Barnes, who twice has successfully rescued Tony from the fury of a Yank attack, and then held them while the Giants pounded out victories. Besides, there are the second string fingers as yet unfettered.

On the other hand, Huggins has trotted out only two successful pitchers. Hoyt and Mays, and the Giants vow they no longer dread the underhand shoots of Mays, having beaten him on his second start. It is Mays who may have to pitch a fourth time if the series goes the limit.

Snyder, Frisch, Meusel Hit 'Em

NEW YORK, October 12.—Snyder and Frisch, of the Giants, hit better than any of the regular Yankee sluggers in the first six games, their averages being .412 and .409. Emil Meusel, of the Giants, leads in total bases with 15, which includes two doubles, a triple and a home run. Frisch leads in runs with five and in stolen bases with three.

Fewster Gets Ball He Hit Into Bleachers

NEW YORK, October 12.—Chick Fewster received a shock yesterday when the ball he hit into the bleachers for a home run was returned to him after the game by the fan who caught it. To return a base ball at the Polo grounds is most unconventional, particularly one with the souvenir value of a world series homer.

Fewster photographed another ball and exchanged it for the returned one. The roster said his friends would not know the difference.

Giants To Lead Yanks Dog's Life

NEW YORK, October 12.—The Giants are going to lead the Yankees a dog's life from now on, said Manager McGraw today. He was feeling snappy over the Giant victory of yesterday. Commenting on the fighting spirit of his men, McGraw mentioned their having won three of the last four games after the Yankees had twice dented them at the start.

Is Your Blood Free Of Waste Products?

Many Human Ills Are Due to Waste Products in the Blood

How Nature Shows Her Danger Signals.

The human system is forever striving to get rid of the waste matter which accumulates. It is a life work that goes on forever. When waste products remain in the system and get in the blood, they cause sickness and poor health. Nature then needs help.

If your face is pale and drawn; if you are under weight; if you suffer with rheumatism or skin eruptions, such as eczema, sores, pimples, or boils, you may know that your blood and general system is filled with these poisonous waste products. In this condition you are an easy prey to all kinds of diseases, because your strength and vitality is "below par"—you haven't the power to fight off disease.

S. S. S. through its blood purifying and system building qualities, aids nature in throwing off these poisonous waste products. It has proven this by the fact that it has relieved thousands and thousands of cases of rheumatism, skin diseases, and has restored health, strength, and vitality to untold numbers of men and women who were weak and run-down.

If you, or any one of your family, are not enjoying perfect health, look out for the waste products which have accumulated in the system. Get rid of them before they wreck your health.

Get S. S. S. from your drug store and use it according to directions. Give yourself, or them, a chance to enjoy life again.

Our Medical Director, a specialist in blood disturbances, will be glad to advise you about how to correct your trouble (without charge). His advice has helped thousands. Write him about your case. Also ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. Address: Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 724 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. S. S. Ruth Suffering From Five Different Hurts

THANKFUL HE WAS NOT A WOMAN

The late Lawson Tait of England, the great woman's doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not born a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia B. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving diseases of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female ills—menstruation.

Infected upper left arm, in which surgeons made a three inch incision. The original injury was suffered in the Cleveland-New York series. The wound was torn open twice in the games of Sunday and Monday and the arm is badly swollen.

Sprained left knee, suffered in midsummer, has never had enough rest to regain strength.

Pulled tendon, or "Charley Horse," in right leg; torn loose again last week when he scored from first on B. Meusel's two bagger.

Sprained wrist, caused by falling on his arm when sliding to bases.

"Strawberry," or open sore on his hip, caused by sliding to bases, and constantly reopened.

Ruth says he could stand the pain and would play, but for the warning of physicians that constant aggravation would spread the infection in his arm and make another and more serious operation necessary.

The Man Who Said:
"The proof of the pudding is in the eating"— was only half through

He started a good pudding-proof, but he didn't finish it.

There's a lot of trouble in the world from puddings that taste good but don't do good.

They "eat" well, but that ends the recommendation.

Sanitariums are full of pudding-eaters who stopped the test at taste and forgot to inquire whether their food gave the body what it needed—until the body rebelled.

Grape-Nuts is a food that tastes good and does good. The proof of Grape-Nuts begins in the eating and goes on through the splendid service which Grape-Nuts renders as a real food. Grape-Nuts is the perfected goodness of wheat and malted barley—delicious to taste, easy to digest, and exceptionally rich in nourishment for body and brain.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

Growing Girls

Most mothers are bothered in finding the proper shape for the children's feet, and frequently when they do, there's no fit to the shoes. I have two combinations shoes for growing girls that have all the fitting qualities of the higher grade shoes. Black and brown, good oak sole leather well sewed, medium full toes, shoes that stand up under hard wear and can be re-soled time and again. Seven-fifty for the best grade, five for another and two others at four and three-fifty. Last season these same qualities were two-fifty to three dollars a pair higher.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

EVIL SUSPICIONS

"I have a message for you both," went on Miss Laura, ignoring Ned's remark. "A message from Cherry. She looked high and low for you both this afternoon and Ned wasn't in his office and she couldn't find you either, Sally," turning to Mrs. Randall.

"What is it?" asked Ned, with sudden alarm.

"Why, she's gone off to Chicago. She missed that afternoon train and Arthur Hamlen offered to get her there in his high-powered car, the new one in a few hours. She had a telegram from her mother. Some one's ill in the family and she simply had to get there. She asked me to give you this message," and here Miss Laura wiped her face again.

For a moment there was dead silence after her words. Ned was the first to break it. His voice was husky.

"I don't know how much you're keeping back from us, Miss Laura, you only know that. But I also know that you and Cherry have been very chummy in my absence, so all I have to say is, is she—is she—"

"Stop right there Ned Randall! I know what you're going to say and I want to save you from hurting yourself after you've said it, too," cried Miss Laura, warningly, as she rose from her seat and walked majestically over to where Ned sat.

"No, she didn't. No, she hasn't. Is that enough for you? She's done just what I said and nothing more. You ought to know the effects of hysterical telegrams by this time. Lord knows you've received them often enough from your mother. I suppose that Mrs. Lawrence sent Cherry one of the same and she took it to heart as you always have."

"And why did she have to have Arthur run off with her?" asked Mrs. Randall, sharply.

"Shame on you, Sally, for a mischievous old woman. Shame on you. You made a mess of your own married life and now you're going to start the same and you're going to ruin nothing more to say to you as long as you feel the way you do. I'm Cherry's friend. I love the child the way you, her new mother, ought to have loved her and didn't. Don't look shocked. You disliked Cherry from the very first. Same as you'd have disliked any girl that Ned chose for himself but that's neither here nor there. As to the child's friend I'm going to see that you nor anyone else says any nutcrack about her in her absence. If her own husband won't stick up for her, I will." With these words Miss Laura swept from the room.

Ned's face had gone white as she denounced his mother and himself, but at the conclusion of her speech he sprang forward without a look at the irate Mrs. Randall, followed Miss Laura out into the November night.

PREPARE NOW for Baby's Coming

THE expectant mother owes it not only to herself to prepare for an easier delivery, but to her child who should be stronger, healthier and more robust thru her care and intelligence.

What is one of the most important things a mother-to-be should do?

The universal answer from thousands of experienced mothers is this: The mother-to-be should massage the muscles and nerves involved in the function of child-bearing, daily, with an application of Mother's Friend. Because—

Three generations of mothers receive the virtue of Mother's Friend for not only allaying distress in advance, but for assisting nature in assuring a speedy recovery for the mother.

So thoroughly has Mother's Friend proven its wonderful efficiency in thousands of cases, that any expectant mother who does not employ its use as directed deprives herself of a powerful agent for her relief and well-being, during the period of pending maternity, and of her prospects for an easier delivery when the eventful hour arrives.

The women who appreciate Mother's Friend the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby and who, thru its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the almost unbelievable relief it gave.

Mrs. Olive Vandem, 10 Grape St., Gallipolis, Ohio, says:

"Before using Mother's Friend I suffered from Wednesday 'till Sunday. With my next child I used Mother's Friend and was sick only about three hours."

Many doctors and nurses recommend Mother's Friend. For external use—is perfectly harmless. Begin its use at once. Sold by all druggists.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

Mrs. Rose M. Brown Gained 20 Pounds In Four Weeks Time

Declares It's Simply Astonishing
To See The Wonderful Benefits
She Has Derived From Tanlac—
Says Terrible Headaches Have Disappeared.

"It sounds unreasonable, but I have actually gained 20 pounds in less than a month's time by taking Tanlac, and the wonderful benefit I have derived from the use of this medicine is simply astonishing," said Mrs. Rose M. Brown, 111 Third Street, Manchester, N. H.

"Why, I am so happy to be relieved of my troubles I can really never praise this medicine enough. Up to the time I began taking Tanlac, I suffered for something over two years with a very bad form of stomach trouble.

"My appetite was so poor I could scarcely eat a thing. My stomach would be so badly bloated with gas sometimes I was almost afraid to go to bed for fear I would actually smother. I felt tired and worn out most of the time and became terribly discouraged over my condition. I often had such violent headaches I was unable to be out of bed for two or three days at a stretch.

"Four bottles of Tanlac completely restored my health and anyone can see at a glance the wonderful change that has taken place in my condition. I have a splendid appetite now and the stomach trouble has entirely disappeared. I can eat just anything I want without ever feeling a sign of indigestion. The best of all, I am never bothered any more with headaches and this was the greatest relief of all. I want to tell everybody what this medicine has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy and the leading druggists everywhere. —Advertisement.

Couzens And Smith Are Nominated

DETROIT, MICH., October 12.—Mayor James Couzens and Daniel W. Smith were nominated in yesterday's non-partisan primary for places on the mayoralty ballot in the November election. Out of a total vote of approximately 65,000, the mayor received 34,631, while Smith received 24,000. William Kriegerhoff, the third candidate, obtained 2,207.

The mayor's municipal ownership plans were made the chief issue in the campaign. Neither of two women who sought places on the councilmanic ticket, received sufficient votes to win a place on the ballot.

A charter amendment to permit the municipal street railway commission to install and operate trackless trolley buses received a majority of nearly 11,000.

Japanese Plant Camphor Trees.
In Formosa large areas are to be planted with camphor trees during the next few years. The trees now utilized are five hundred to one thousand years old, and the Japanese wisely intend to conserve the source of supply of one of their important monopolies.

Possibly the Reason.
"The trouble is that my boss has favorites. You can't deny it." "I won't deny it. But have you noticed that his favorites do all the hard work about the place?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Comfort in the Thought.
Patricia possesses the four-year-old's usual aversion to water for cleansing purposes and is most sparing of its application to her small face. The other evening before going to bed she gave her reflection in the mirror a careful scrutiny and remarked: "Well, my face is pretty clean. I believe it'll do for tomorrow."

Gas, Indigestion, Stomach Misery —"Diapepsin"

"Diapepsin" really does put bad stomachs in order—really does overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that just that—makes Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, indigested food and acid, head is dizzy and aches, remember the moment "Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous—and the joy is its harmlessness. A large six-cent case of Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the most efficient antacid and stomach regulator in the world.—Advertisement.

GRAND CHAMPION BULL.
HAMLEN, ILL., October 12.—Imp Duchas Grandee, owned by the Alta Crest farm, Spencer, Mass., has been adjudged grand champion bull in the Agrestian class judging at the National dairy show here, it was announced today. He also was awarded the senior championship for two year olds or over.

Lucinda Peter Pan 15th, owned by H. W. Gossard, Martinsville, Ind., won the junior bull championship in this class.

YUTOI WINS RACE.
NEW MARKET, ENG., October 12.—The Cesarewitch stakes of 1,000 pounds with extras was won here today by Mrs. Hartley's Yutoi. Mrs. Fred Hardy's Charleville was second and Lord Derby's Harrier, third. Seventeen horses ran.

For Psychological Research.
One of the most remarkable London clubs is the International Club of Psychological Research, in Regent street. It has no concern with merely earthly things. Although the club has only been founded a few months, it has already over 500 members. Every possible "ist" is represented. There are theosophists, spiritists, phrenologists, psychologists, spiritualists, mesmerists, and so on.

Was His Time to Die.
A very strange incident occurred at Vauvort, France, during a recent storm. A man eighty years of age was caught up by a whirlwind and hurled over a hayrick. He came down in safety on the other side, but as his friends were congratulating him on his escape the old man was killed by lightning, which spared the other men who were standing around him.

Too many Babies Born?
Can we not see, right here in our own surroundings, that altogether too many babies are born now? Better by far fewer babies, and these well fed, well clothed, well cared for physically, morally and mentally—if we would expect a strong, hardy race. If race suicide is ever checked it will not be by bringing into the world ill-fed, poorly clothed, worse fathered children, but rather by well-directed efforts to save the children who die unnecessarily.—Dr. George T. Finch, in Leslie's.

Easy Explanation.
"Why, Giorgio, there is ten minutes difference between my watch and the hall clock since Sunday! Which is wrong of the two?" "Is my watch ten minutes too slow or the clock ten minutes too fast?" "Your watch is all right, sir," said he grimly, "because the very warm in your pocket; clock stand out in cold hall, be go faster to warm himself."—The Later Letters of Edward Lear.

Alaska's Fine Scenes.
With the exception of a few areas in the Cook Inlet region, the topography of the Chukotka forest in Alaska is exceedingly rugged, the mountains often rising abruptly from the sea. On Resurrection Bay the towering peaks seem to reach into heaven. The timber line is usually at an elevation of about 2,000 feet; above this rise barren, glaciated peaks ranging from 3,000 to 8,000 feet in elevation.

Affection.
It is sublime to feel and say of another, I need never meet, speak or write to him; we need not reinforce ourselves or send tokens of remembrance.—Emerson.

others who congratulated her with kisses and hand clasps.

Overcome with emotion, she sought out all the members of the jury and thanked them.

"I certainly am grateful," she said as she passed from one juror to another. When she reached the first of the women jurors, Mrs. Anna Livingston, she kissed her.

The jury trying Miss McArdle for alleged complicity in the murder of Daniel Kaber, her stepfather, resumed its deliberations today after a night spent in a hotel where it was locked up when it reported to Judge Homer G. Powell that it could not reach a verdict.

The jurors, nine men and three women, had had the case about seven hours when one of the men, Mr. J. H. Hart, of Chicago, and Francis W. Poulson, Miss McArdle's attorneys, went to her cell to reassure her of the outcome and to comfort her. The jail matron reported the 20 year old girl to be suffering mentally under the strain of waiting for the verdict.

Judge Powell instructed the jury to bring in one of four verdicts—first degree murder without mercy, first degree murder with mercy, second degree murder, or acquittal.

Although the girl is charged with first degree murder, the prosecuting attorneys in their closing arguments indicated they would be satisfied with a verdict of guilty with recommendation for mercy.

Miss McArdle is the third of five persons indicted for Kaber's murder to face trial. Others indicted were Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, her mother; Mrs. Mary Reiche, 69, her grandmother; Salvatore Cala and Mrs. Emma Colavito.

Mrs. Kaber and Cala were found guilty of first degree murder with recommendations for mercy and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Colavito, who, it is alleged, aided Cala and Vittoria Pisselli to stab Kaber to death, and Mrs. Reiche, upon whom Miss McArdle and Cala place the responsibility for the murder plot, are awaiting trial.

Miss McArdle was arrested in New York with her mother early last summer.

End of Golden Nugget Day.

Men have found a mass of native copper weighing 420 tons and they have discovered a chunk of pure silver weighing two and one-half tons, but the largest nugget of gold that has yet been seen weighed only 190 pounds. And gold seekers are informed that larger finds in the future are unlikely.

To Keep Ferns Fresh.

Use a soil of about half leaf mold or smooth earth and half fine sand. Give abundant drainage and then plenty of water. About once a month put them in the wash tub or bathtub and give a thorough washing, not sparring soap; rinse well, and slightly loosen the soil before returning them to the stand. A bit of fresh beef buried in the soil occasionally helps.

Mother! Open Child's Bowels With "California Fig Syrup"

Your little one will love the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" even if constipated, bilious, irritable, feverish, or full of cold. A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the sour bile, and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a name "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup. Advertisement.

Novel Plan to Fatten Geese.

To fatten geese some breeders keep the birds in a dark room, and by letting in daylight every few hours persuade them to take six or seven breakfasts a day.

The menu of a meal given lately by the London Vegetarian association included walnut cutlets with brown sauce, cauliflower and new potatoes, asparagus on toast, spaghetti on toast, tomato farfale and young carrots.

SIR ARTHUR PEARSON GIVING CUP TO PRIZE WINNER AT ATHLETIC MEET.

BY HILTON BRONNER

LONDON—"There goes a man, who lived in the world of light and made a great career for himself. Then he passed into the world of darkness and carried for himself."

That's what a friend said recently concerning Sir Arthur Pearson, a little over thirty years ago, three young Britons, Alfred Harmsworth, George Newnes and Arthur Pearson, were working for small salaries.

All had the same qualities—energy, business genius, a nose for news and a profound understanding of the British public.

In after years they came near running the magazine-publishing business of London.

How They Grew.
Harmsworth, now Viscount Northcliffe, owner of the Daily Mail, founded a little paper called "Answers," it had jokes and bits of all kinds of information.

Newnes started "The Bits" in opposition to "Answers" and ran it very much on the same lines. One day he offered a guest job on the paper to the reader who best answered a lot of questions.

Pearson won the job. After a while he made up his mind to run a paper of the same sort himself and founded "Pearson's Weekly."

Pearson pulled wonderful stunts to popularize the paper. The biggest was when London had a great epidemic of influenza.

A famous specialist said one of the best preventives was emollients. Pearson quickly went out and bought up every available ounce of the stuff in England.

Then every copy of Pearson's Weekly was impregnated with the drug. You could smell each copy yards away. Thousands of people for weeks afterward went about with a copy of the paper buttoned under their vest or dress.

Pearson afterward founded "Pearson's Magazine," the "Royal Magazine," and the "Daily Express" and bought a controlling interest in several other papers.

Then came 1912 and his eyes gave way. Twenty years before he had established the Fresh Air Fund. Now he devoted time and money to it, with the result that in one summer over 120,000 children were sent from the slums of London to the open country for a holiday.

When the war broke out, he was joint secretary with Sir Hedley Leas of the Prince of Wales's fund, which collected about $200,000 for the relief of distress among the poor.

He was also one of the first to grasp that hundreds of soldiers would be blinded. He was, therefore, a moving spirit looking after blinded soldiers and teaching them to become self-supporting.

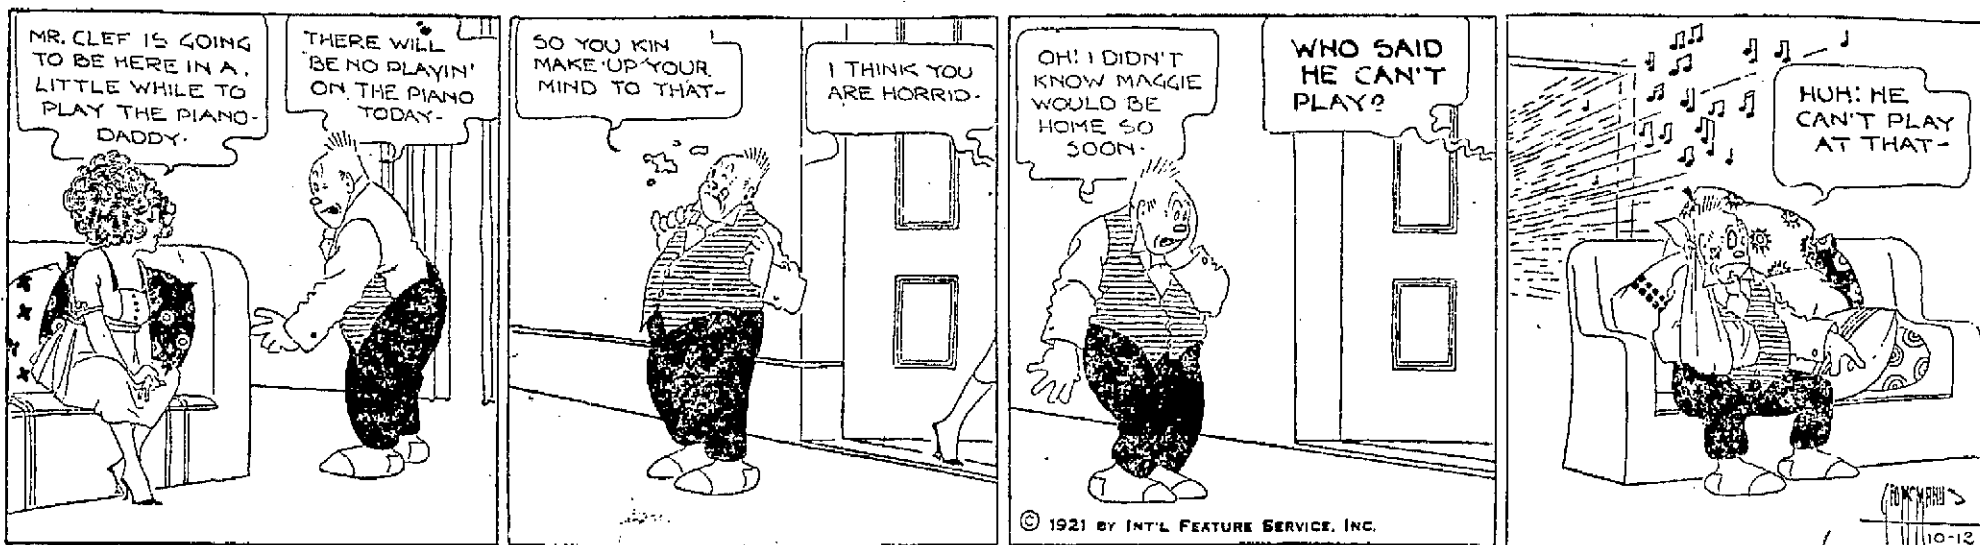

Pearson finally was knighted for his great services.

Wall Paper Hint.
Before putting on new wall paper it is best to remove the old paper, and if a boilerful of boiling water is placed in the room and all the windows and doors closed, the steam will soften the paper to such an extent that it is easily removed.

SCIOTOVILLE MENACED BY FIRE WHICH CAUSED LOSS OF $3,000

Fire of unknown origin, which caused damage estimated at about $3,000 this morning about eight o'clock in Sciotoville menaced the entire west end of the village for a short time, quick work by the Portsmouth and New Boston firemen preventing the spread of fire to several homes and barns which would have communicated the flames to many other structures. With no water supply with which to fight the flames the firemen would have been powerless to check the fire had it obtained a bigger start. The arrival of the firemen on the scene a few minutes after the fire started is what kept the flames from causing great damage to houses nearby on which the point was blistered, weatherboarding scorched and roofs damaged.

The Sciotoville citizens having nothing but praise for the firemen who had to work only with chemicals, the New Boston firemen arriving with a chemical supply just as the city's firemen had exhausted their chemicals.

The fire started in a two-story four room frame house owned by Charles Pollard of Pine Creek. Mr. Pollard has a two-story eight room frame house on Winchester avenue, the fire starting in the house on the rear of the lot. The houses have been vacant a few days and Mr. Pollard went to get his property in shape this morning for new tenants. He had started a gas fire in a stove in the rear house and had been at the front house about an hour when his attention was attracted to flames shooting forth from the house in the rear. The Portsmouth firemen were notified but before the unit truck from the East End could make the trip the frame structure had been completely enveloped in flames which spread both ways, a double from garage on one side and a small frame barn belonging to John Bennett on the other, catching fire.

The wind carried the flames in a westerly direction toward the Pollard, John Bennett, Wesley Jenkins and George Jenkins homes facing on Winchester avenue.

The Wesley Jenkins home had a hole burned in the roof, two rear windows damaged and paint blistered. A hole was burned in the roof of the George Jenkins home and the paint was scorched.

Point on the rear of the Pollard and Bennett homes was burned off, the firemen throwing chemicals on the houses in time to prevent them from catching fire. The rear house owned by Pollard was completely furnished by the owner who did not save a thing. Mr. Bennett had old household effects stored in his barn.

Mr. Pollard places his loss at about $3,500. He had carried insurance but thinks that it has elapsed. Mr. Bennett whose loss is less than $200 did not carry insurance. Damage to the Jenkins home is covered by insurance.

The neighbors formed a bucket brigade before the firemen arrived and all eisterns in the neighborhood were pumped dry within a short time.

Hazelbeck will insure you.

Stritmatter Is Indicted On 20 Counts

Relative to the indictment of Edward S. Stritmatter by the Federal grand jury in Cincinnati yesterday, the Enquirer today says:

That he forged railroad bills of lading, covering fictitious grain shipments, and deposited them with sight drafts attached in two Portsmouth banks, thereby obtaining approximately $26,000 from the banks, is charged in an indictment returned by the grand jury against Edward S. Stritmatter, Portsmouth, Ohio, doing business as Stritmatter Grain and Milling Company.

This is the second case of its kind to be presented to the Federal Court at Cincinnati, and it is said that Stritmatter's operations in the way of "kiting" drafts by means of the alleged bogus bills of lading were on all fours with the operations of a Cincinnati grain dealer who was named defendant in the first case presented.

The indictment, which is drawn under the Pomerene act, contains 20 counts, 10 of which charge forgery and counterfeiting of bills of lading, and the remainder negotiating and transferring them to the banks for value.

The banks mentioned in the indictment are the First National Bank of Portsmouth and the Portsmouth Banking Company, and the bills of lading alleged to have been forged by Stritmatter are alleged to have covered fictitious shipments of grain from Waverly and Lucasville, Ohio, to Ravenswood, Tazewell, Huntington, Williamson and Milton, W. Va., Baltimore, Md., Hickory, S. C., and Heller, Ky.

The penalty provided under the Pomerene act is imprisonment not to exceed five years, or a fine not to exceed $5,000, or both.

NAUTY TELLS PLANS FOR FLIGHT OVER NORTH POLE

BY NORRIS QUINN

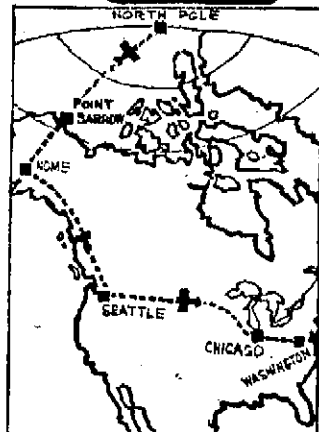

WASHINGTON.—A flight across the top of the world is what the coming month holds for Edwin Fairfax Nauty. Nauty is in Washington buying supplies and perfecting plans for the first airplane dash to the North Pole. On Nov. 14, if his schedule works out, he will be at the Pole.

He expects to travel from Point Barrow, Alaska, to the Pole in two days with almost as great ease and security as you would travel from New York to Chicago.

From the Pole he will run down the other side of the world, visit Europe and jump back across the Atlantic, checking up his 12,000th mile as he returns to his starting point at Washington.

Nauty Details Plan
"Four men will make up the party," Nauty says. "Besides myself there will be three army pilots, whose names I'm not yet at liberty to announce. We shall travel in a specially constructed plane that can readily be converted into land plane, sea plane or ice plane, as occasion demands. The flight will start from Washington, traveling across the continent we shall pass Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and finally Seattle. From Seattle we shall fly to Ketchikan, Alaska, and thence over Japan, Nome and Anchorage to Point Barrow. There's where the thrills start! No Arctic explorer ever has visited the region between Point Barrow and the Pole. The first day out of Point Barrow we expect to make 600 miles flying at 50 miles an hour.

Harding Land
"At the close of the day we'll land at the unknown point indicated on the map as the 80th parallel. I expect to find land there. I'll plant the American flag and name it President Harding Land. That's the half-way point between civilization and the Pole. "What President Harding Land will look like no one knows. But there'll probably be life there—seals, walrus and polar bears, but no human beings. "From the 80th parallel we'll hop off on our final jump to the Pole, reaching it in one day. We'll bring back a piece of the Pole in the form of geological specimens for the folks back home to look at.

EDWIN FAIRFAX NAUTY, AMERICAN SCIENTIST, AND AVIATOR WHO PLANS TO START THIS MONTH ON AN AIR VOYAGE ACROSS THE NORTH POLE.

"During our Arctic journey we shall never see the sun, as it doesn't show itself in this season. But if the weather is clear, we shall have the moon, abundant starlight and the northern lights.

Gas For 50 Hours
"From Point Barrow we shall carry only enough gas to last 50 flying hours. That'll get us to Spitzbergen on the other side of the world, where we can stock up afresh.

"We'll carry a complete portable radio outfit to call for aid in case we get stuck."

From Spitzbergen, Nauty will fly across Europe to London, where he'll stay through the winter. Then he'll fly across the Atlantic to Iceland, around the Greenland coast to Labrador, across Quebec to Montreal, then to Albany, N. Y., and finally to Washington.

He hopes to be back here by June, 1922.

Gas Co. Must Pay Damages

IRONTON, Oct. 12.—The Ohio Supreme court handed down a decision Tuesday finding in favor of Joseph P. Haas, administrator, and against the United Fuel Gas Company. This decision is final and means that the gas company must pay to those having suits against it, growing out of the St. Lawrence school gas explosion in November, 1917, the amount of damages agreed upon by attorneys of plaintiffs and defendant, should the test case, which was the Haas case, be so decided.

These cases have been tried several times in the lower courts with varying results, the attorneys finally agreeing to submit one of the cases to the higher court and abide by the finding of that tribunal. This means that the gas company must pay several thousand dollars damages to persons affected by the explosion and who entered suit against the company. The explosion which resulted seriously to a number of children as well as older persons, occurred while a Thanksgiving entertainment was in progress.

To amuse an invalid who cannot sit up in bed arrange a mirror on an easel in such a way as to reflect the moving panorama to be seen from the window. If the street scene wears the invalid the glass may be so fixed as to show the slowly changing sky.

A unique theme is the basis of the latest Goldwyn picture featuring Tom Moore, entitled "Hold Your Horses," by Rupert Hughes. It comes to the Eastland Theatre for three days, commencing tomorrow. Here is the story:

From the old country, Daniel Canavan (Tom Moore) came to New York and followed the calling of street cleaning. One day while on duty he was run down by a carriage occupied by Beatrice Newness (Naomi Childers), a wealthy society girl, and Rodman Cadbury, her swell snitter, so what nerve Canavan did have was lost and he took a job with a blasting gang. A red flag was thrust in Canavan's hand and he was told to keep the traffic back—his first taste of authority and he "grew drunk" on it. He even went home and gave his quarensone wife a dose of her own little medicine.

His growing aggressiveness attracted the attention of Jim James, political boss, and as a pupil, Canavan rose rapidly. It was in his new authority of political boss that he next met the beautiful girl who had run over him. The subsequent happenings have been woven into one of the most delightfully stirring stories ever screened.

Program

B—"Aim Love Grand"—A New Christie Comedy.

C—Screen Snapshots—News From The Studios.

D—Goldwyn presents "Don't Neglect Your Wife."

In the action takes place in picturesque San Francisco and the historic Five Points section of New York.

DOCTORS AND DRUGGISTS SAY TAKE GOOD FALL TONIC NOW

And in Choosing a Fall Tonic One Should Be Sure to Take a Reliable Medicine of Proven Merit

NERV-WORTH

Dr. G. W. Adams said: "I can recommend Nerv-Worth. It is fine for nervousness, indigestion or ill attending neurasthenia."

STOMACH EVILS

The miseries of a bad stomach are suffered by thousands. Food improperly digested fails to give nourishment. The whole system becomes run-down. Gas on the stomach, pains, vomiting, spells, dizziness, indigestion, dyspepsia, all readily give way to Nerv-Worth. Don't suffer longer. A proof of the merits of Nerv-Worth is found in the statements of people who have been benefited. A new neighborhood Nerv-Worth endorsement of this famous family tonic appears in these columns almost every day.

Sold at $1.00 per bottle and recommended by Fisher & Streich.—Advertisement.

Successful Rebuilder

Fall finds many people run-down, listless, nervous and suffering from that constant "tired, drabby feeling." Their stomachs have become disordered, their food seems to fail to give proper nourishment, their nerve force is low, they lack their former vigor. They should take a good tonic adapted to the treatment of these conditions. Nerv-Worth is the tonic that meets these requirements and acts scientifically to restore normal health and vigor.

It straightens up the stomach, neutralizes excess acids, drives out accumulated impurities, gives nerve force, tones and invigorates the whole system. A well-known druggist said a short time ago: "Nerv-Worth is the most successful of any preparation I have ever offered to my customers." Its results are quick and effective. Statements from people near home prove conclusively that Nerv-Worth really does the work.

Contains no opiates, narcotics, coal tar products, no habit-forming drugs. Pleasant to take.

Dr. N. B. Ferguson said: "Nerv-Worth is truly a great remedy. It proves a great boon to sufferers from troubles for which it is intended."

LACK OF NERVE FORCE

HEALTH, VIGOR AND VITALITY

Fortunately the sufferer's lack of nerve force need not condemn him to endless ill health, nor to an untimely end. For Nerv-Worth, the famous root and plant nerve tonic, has wonderful power to make over wrecked nerves and to restore debilitated organs. Nerv-Worth stimulates and strengthens the nerves, whets the appetite, adds flesh, aids digestion, restores the liver, regulates the bowels, restores restful sleep, banishes sick and nervous headache and other aches and pains, builds up run-down systems. Sold by Fisher & Streich, Pharmacy and all leading druggists everywhere.

The conference money for this year is reported as being the largest amount contributed in the history of the church. Friends and members of Allen Chapel are looking forward to his return, in that his work during the past year is very commendable. Should he be returned, it is generally conceded that Allen Chapel will continue its steady growth, spiritually, intellectually and financially.

Osteopathy

The principle of Osteopathy is adjustment, and the spine is the chief structure of the body to which the Osteopath directs his attention, believing, as he does, that the nutrition to every organ and tissue of the body comes from the sympathetic and central nervous system, and that any deviation from the normal of the bony framework of the spine will affect these nervous systems and thereby the organ or tissue to which the particular nerve is distributed.

To Play Cornell

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12.—Western Reserve's varsity football team yesterday scrimmaged against the freshman eleven for an hour and had trouble penetrating the defense of the first year men. Coach Dume gave the varsity squad some new plays for use against Cornell at Ithaca Saturday.

Case team had a long and hard workout yesterday under Coach Canfield, who used Green at halfback in the scrimmage instead of Linn or Mohr, in trying to complete the combination to take the field against Ohio Wesleyan in the game here Saturday.

Tennis Results

In the women's singles tennis tournament Tuesday Miss Nancy Grimes defeated Margaret Armstrong in two straight sets by scores of 6-0 and 6-4. This defeat eliminated Miss Armstrong from the tourney. Mrs. Mary Hayland is the only other player who has not lost a match. Mrs. C. M. Donahue and Miss Virginia Robinson have each lost a match.

In the boys' doubles tournament yesterday the Hook-O'Brien team was defeated by Howard Flowers and Lykens, the winners taking two out of three sets. The scores were 6-3, 2-6 and 7-5. The defeat eliminates the first named team.

Perry Wins

COLUMBUS, Oct. 12.—Jack Perry, of Pittsburgh, won the judge's decision over Anthony Downey, of Cincinnati, in a 12 round bout here last night.

Oh Boy, P. H. S. To Face This Big Bird

Tackle Sagraves is one of Huntington High's sturdy linemen. His weight is 170 and this is his second year on the team. He is only a Junior and is expected to be with the team again next year. He will be seen in action against P. H. S. Saturday on the Sixteenth street field.

Coach Dan Fries of the local eleven put the team through a stiff workout Monday and Tuesday afternoons and will continue on a stiff schedule the remainder of the week in order to whip the team into shape for Saturday's contest which will be one of the hardest of the season for the locals. Sub-quarter Manning is working in that position this week in practice in the place of Pledge. Manning has won a place on the first team by his good work at end last Saturday when he made many fine tackles.

VOLLEY BALL

The Selby Vets, last year's champs in the roller ball league, were made to look more like beginners Tuesday evening when they clashed with the Selby Culls and dropped all three games. The Vets put up a brave fight, but did not show the high class brand of volley ball played by the victors. In the second game the losers only made 4 points, which shows plainly they were away off their stride last evening.

Captain Norval Griffin was the star for the winners, while Homer Selby played a good game for the Vets. The lineup:

Culls—N. B. Griffin, Capt., Fred Lacey, C. P. Hauck, Choice Freeman, Eddie Hock, Roger Selby.
 Vets—Ross Donahue, Capt., Homer Selby, J. E. Wiles, Ernest W. Winebrenner, Watson Goddard, Henry Ruggles.

Stars Defeated

The Lucasville baseball nine won a close game from the Hilltop Stars of Portsmouth Sunday, the score being 3 to 2. The Stars scored their runs in the first inning. Lucasville scored two in the fourth when McNumer hit for two sacks sending in two men. The game was exciting from then on. In the sixth with the bases full and Lucusville leading 3 to 2, McNumer, centerfielder for Lucasville, made a dandy catch. Mason hit a liner to middle which Lucusville captured with the right hand. Both teams had men on bases but could not squeeze in a run until the ninth when Lucasville got the winning tally. McNumer, first up, hit safely past first, stole second and scored on Martin's two-base hit to center.

Warnock and Kearns formed the battery for the Portsmouth team while Appel and Gentry worked for the winners. Warnock struck out 5 and Appel 12. The winners made 6 hits and the losers 3.

The Lucasville nine has played 22 games, winning 17 and losing 5.

CURTAIN! NICK'S ALL SET!

NICK ALTROCK AND AL SCHLICHT, AT THE CLIMAX OF THEIR SNAKE DANCE.

WHEN the last strained strains of the overture die away and the band strikes up a lively tune, the curtain will slowly rise and—oh, boy! look what'll be there—
 Nick Altrock and Al Schlicht, the world champion snake comedians. They are going into vaudeville this winter, wrestling match, snake dance and all. Schlicht will understudy the famous Nick.
 The photo above illustrates their new snake dance. Nick sits before the basket, in true oriental fashion, fanning it with mysterious signs while Al floats around with Egyptian dancing jesters.
 At the climax of the dance Nick peeps into the basket and drags forth the snake, a long string of welmers. They pull it after them and dance around it until it bites Al, who falls dead. Nick is so sad over his friend's death that he puts the welmers in his bare bosom and forces the snake to bite him in the heart. He dies instantly—until the next performance.

New Alleys Opened Tonight

Manager Byron Prediger announced Tuesday evening, that the Crystal Palace bowling alleys would be thrown open to the public this (Wednesday) evening, promptly at 6 o'clock. The alleys, which have been planned and leveled and highly polished by the Brunswick-Balke-Coller Co., of Cincinnati, are as fast as lightning and ready for the big blow off this evening.

As an added attraction for the opening festivities, there will be a five game match between Byron Prediger and William Smith against Charles Marple and Charles Erfurth. These men battled at the Play House alleys last Saturday evening, and Prediger and Smith won by the narrow margin of seven pins, Erfurth falling down to a 136 in his fifth game. A purse of $20 has been hung up, winners take all.

Manager Prediger states that he is sorry to announce that the new pins, ordered some time ago, have failed to arrive. They are expected any hour and will be put up as soon as they come. Old pins will be shot at until the new wood arrives.

Manager Prediger further states that the following schedule of prices will prevail. Up to 6 o'clock p. m. games will cost 15 cents straight, thereafter 20 cents for a single game, or 35 cents for two games. League games, three for 50 cents.

The Crystal Palace Alleys are laid in cement and are bound to be true. They have been put in such elegant condition by the Brunswick-Balke-Coller experts that it will take a keen judge to tell the difference between new and old alleys. They will be kept in prime condition under the management of Mr. Prediger, who is regarded as one of the crack bowlers of the state and who is known to be a gentleman at all times and under all circumstances.

The match game this evening will be started promptly at 8 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend the opening.

CRITICISM AND CONSTRUCTION

THE Republican congress is finding there is a broad difference between finding fault with something done and doing something.

Jeers and criticism in copious spontaneity flowed from them, during the campaign, for the Democratic war taxation measure. Truth to say there was a great deal in it not to be approved, but it was then an entirely new departure, a critical emergency, that had to be met instantly, with only one main object, money, to be raised. It sufficiently met that one purpose, though its operations were uneven and unjust in instances.

In convention the Republican party denounced it in the mass and in detail. They promised a finished product, that should neither be a hardship upon individuals, nor a clog upon business. Given power and opportunity the leaders have set out to justify their strictures of the Democratic measure and redeem the party's pledge. After six months of effort they find themselves nowhere, except befogged with a cloud of difficulties and wrangles.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon undoubtedly, approved by President Harding and "the best minds," submitted to congress his views of what changes should be made. The house nonchalantly proceeded to ignore them and pass something entirely different. This put the problem, in a way, up to the senate. Secretary Mellon appeared before its committee with some variations of his first recommendations. The committee gave no sign that it heard him and calmly ripped the house provisions to pieces. Now with the matter before the whole body for consideration, there is no agreement whatsoever of opinion and with the President announced of "open mind," the clash and bickering have become so fierce that a split in the majority is keenly feared.

Unfortunately the fears are over wrought. There will be no split; nor will the experience be worth anything in the way of betterment in partisan conduct for the future. For as long as the political cauldron continues to throw so much of the selfish and the small to the top, men will show themselves much more bent on destruction than they are capable of construction.

AN UNPLEASANT SUGGESTION

RAMORS, which originate in Columbus, which is the natural breeding place for them, are finding their way into the newspapers, that all is not well in the road building operations of the state, and rather broad intimations are thrown out that grafters, through their pull, are finding some rich pickings.

With the fierce fighting that is going on among the material men, who represent conflicting interest, quite as much is to be expected, and there is assurance in the apparent belief at every hand that Commissioner of Highways Herriek is altogether square.

In these times of general demoralization it behooves not only him, but all other officials to be extremely diligent in seeing that the grafters do not put over anything.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTYRE

NEW YORK, October 12.—The world drifts through New York hotel floors these days. Each ocean liner unfolds its fashionable furrage for in Europe this is the "American season." Ladies with chic minds and flamboyantly labeled luggage. Men with black bears and Hamburg hats, and a lap dog is a symbol of class.

To wax Gilbertian there is "much society of very doubtful propriety." The greyhounds, who ride the liners to pluck victims at curbs, are sprinkled through the crowds, their keen eyes aglitter in hawk-like faces. The adventures runs to type. Black tuxedo made suits, picture hats and a touch of brazen insolence.

They chatter in French, at times in German and dining out is a gorgeous event. At night the Europeans select the sedate French cafes where soft lights and silence cast an aristocratic atmosphere. They shop not with the hot-poll but at the shops crouched in signless magnificence.

I sat the other night in a cafe given over to Europeans. The waiters have acquired the art of dignity in servitude and utterly awe the bourgeoisie. They receive a gratuity not as if it were a debasing act but as if it were granting a privilege accorded only to the elect.

The woman in low cut evening gowns had their long cigarette holders to match their dress. They leisurely blew ringlets ceilingward in stilled indifference. America, they seemed to say, does not know real suffering. Look at us!

There were men too in tweeds with strong back teeth and glacial exterior. Cuff shooters who continually peeped at platinum wrist watches and talked the monosyllabic chatter of the Strand—"My Eye," "My Word" and "Cherio."

At a table next to mine was a fussy little man with side wheel whiskers dyed black. One eye was owlish from a monocle. He sipped Turkish coffee. Across from him sat a beautiful young girl, whose eyes wandered out like those of a caged animal. The garcon referred to his in Europe this is the "American season." Whiskers as Your Grace.

When the pair departed the garcon, touched by the spirit that impels a monarch to speak to the peasant, said to me: "Another good American girl picks a quiver." I used to valet that old bird and twenty years ago he was so grouchy he had to take his cocktails without orange juice?"

This new barber shop with the symphony orchestra in the office building that was one the Knickerbocker Hotel is proving a great success of material for the Sunday space writers. Even New York is getting a thrill over a barber shop. It is supposed to be the largest one in the world and it is indeed a luxurious place. The barbers speak only when spoken to which is a reason it will never get my patronage. There are a lot of things I like to take up with barbers. One of them is that I may not see it all I know about grand opera and a Swiss barber tipped me off to the finest and oddest restaurant in all New York. And it was of no consequence that when I visited it I found the barber was the proprietor. It was a good place.

In the past ten days it is estimated that 6,000 moving picture players have arrived in New York from the coast. They are marking time until the studios open up again. Speaking of the movies, Mary Pickford is playing next door to Douglas Fairbanks on Forty Second street and a man who knows tells me Doug is getting nearly twice the patronage of our Mary. It is perhaps just as well that they went to Europe when they did. Taking up the subject at the breakfast table might spoil an otherwise perfect day, I imagine.

The Outcasts of Nippon

"The Japanese are a very proud and sensitive people," says a writer who is making a study of Jap purposes and finds that they regard themselves just as good, possibly a little better than white men. Thus the heathen imagine vain things and seek equal rights with other peoples of the world in the United States.

Being proud and sensitive," the Japanese resent their exclusion from our country. They might easily do that even if they were a humble and callous people. To be forbidden to enter a very fair and promising land to which nearly all the races of the earth may come to make their home, as an evil destination which reflects most seriously on the honor and decency of the people of Nippon.

In the bombast of political appeals to prejudice, we hear stirring stories of the immorality and repugnant characteristics of the Japs—their unfitness for association with white people, but we have never read or heard of evidence on their part which is worse than that of many of our pure whites, to say nothing of other races we admit freely to our territory. Can it be that we bar the Japanese because they are superior to ourselves in industry, in economy, in thrift, in agriculture, and in many other qualifications which we lack in other peoples?

Is it that the Japs are more faithful in the loyalty to employers, more productive as workers, more efficient in what they undertake, than those in America with whom they would compete? Would it be wise, statesmanship to tell them we fear their good qualities and so exclude them? It might save wounded sensibilities.

Capitalism Feeding Its Enemies
Great truths often shine forth in little incidents and brief stories. The imagination of newspaper men is particularly fertile in the invention of logical dialogues that carry needed lessons. Here is one of them from the Birmingham Age-Herald:

"Here's a bowl of soup, some good white bread and a plate of beans."
"Does that food come from the capitalist country, America?" asked the Bolshevik.

"Yes. If it's against your principles to eat it, stand aside."
"I'll take it. It may give me strength to finish my pamphlet on the Cause of Capitalism."

Capitalism is feeding starving Russians who would destroy it and bring America to their own plight. Capitalism has much to its credit, in spite of the charges against it. Even those newspapers which ran against it to reap pennies from the multitude, are a result of capitalism and owned by capitalists. Every man who owns a home, or a farm, or a business, who has a little bank account or an investment is a capitalist. Every employer is a capitalist. If he were not he could not be an employer, and the wild-eyed cranks who are fed by the savings of others would be running through the woods eating berries and bark, but for the comforts of capitalism he provided for them.

Passing Compliments

Forty-one years ago, Colonel Bob Rogers spoke in Brooklyn to the largest audience ever assembled there. It was during the Garfield campaign. The eloquent Illinois orator was presented by Henry Ward Beecher in these words: "I now introduce to you a man who, and I may not say it first, is the most brilliant speaker of the English tongue on this globe."

The applause of the audience was loud and long. Col. Rogers waited until complete quiet was restored, and then said: "It has taken this world thousands of years to produce a Beecher."

Nothing better in the graceful art of introduction and the acknowledgment of high praise is on record; in this instance with strict adherence to truth, for no man could spin golden sentences like Rogers, and Beecher was a very great man.

D'Annunzio, hero of Fiume and French poet, has gone to making wine as an occupation. He will give his product a distinctive name, and let us hope collect his bills with ease. Otherwise he may slug with license. But he who shall my temper try—'Tis best to touch me not, say I—Shall rue it, and through all the town My verse shall damn him with renown.

The city of terraced buildings predicted does not look well to us as predicted. Too much like a cemetery, which of its hand and places is most hideous as a home of monumental monstrosities.

"Yes, mum, I know," Bridget admitted, cheerfully, "but she couldn't help it. I was telling her how you tried to make a cake yesterday morning."

And Jimmy, gathering them all into the editorial waste basket, did so.
